"Can't Help Falling in Love" is a pop song originally recorded by American singer Elvis Presley. It was written by Hugo Peretti, Luigi Creatore, and George David Weiss. The song was based on "Plaisir d'Amour", and featured in Elvis Presley's album Blue Hawaii, which was adapted for inclusion in the 1961 film Blue Hawaii.

Elvis Presley's version of the song, which topped the British charts in 1962, has appeared in numerous other films. According to the RIAA, the single is certified Platinum, for US sales in excess of one million copies. In the United States, the Elvis Presley version of the song peaked at number two on the pop chart and went to number one on the Easy Listening chart for six weeks.

During Presley's late sixties and 1970s live performances, the song was performed as the show's finale. Most notably, it was also sung in the live segment of his 1968 NBC television special, and as the closer for his 1973 Global telecast. A version with a faster, more modern arrangement was used as the closing for Presley's final TV special, "Elvis in Concert".

Wise men say only fools rush in
But I can't help falling in love with you
Shall I stay
Would it be a sin
If I can't help falling in love with you

Like a river flows surely to the sea
Darling so it goes
Some things are meant to be
Take my hand, take my whole life too
For I can't help falling in love with you

Like a river flows surely to the sea
Darling so it goes
Some things are meant to be
Take my hand, take my whole life too
For I can't help falling in love with you
For I can't help falling in love with you
