1 Nature of the tasks:

The seconded national expert (SNE) will be part of the Unit in DG Communications Networks, Content & Technology that is responsible for the development of the Commission's policy in the area of copyright and related rights. She or he will join a collegial, dynamic and diverse team of highly-dedicated professionals at a crucial time when the future of copyright in the digital era is being vividly debated in Europe and beyond.

Copyright policy has been identified as a clear policy priority of the Juncker Commission and is seen, not only by the Commission but also by the European Parliament and the Council, as a key element in the development of the Digital Single Market Strategy. The Unit is currently in charge of the legislative process on the ongoing modernisation of the EU copyright rules. Two major Commission's proposals, a Directive on copyright in the Digital Single Market and a Regulation laying down rules on the exercise of copyright and related rights applicable to certain online transmissions of broadcasting organisations and retransmissions of TV and radio programmes, are currently being negotiated in the European Parliament and the Council.

The Unit is also responsible for a considerable body of legislation adopted over the years in the area of copyright (eleven directives and two regulations – including the recently adopted regulation on content portability and the directive and the regulation implementing the Marrakesh Treaty in EU law) and is regularly required to provide input in the context of preliminary rulings of the Court of Justice of the European Union.

¹ These mentions are given on an indicative basis only (Art.4 of the SNE Decision).

In the next months we will be particularly busy with the final stages of the legislative procedure to adopt the Directive on copyright in the Digital Single Market. Following its adoption, the Unit will actively follow up on its implementation, as well as the implementation of the Directive implementing in EU legislation the Marrakesh Treaty and the application of the portability Regulation. This may involve in particular guidance to Member States and stakeholders on the application of the new rules.

In parallel, we will continue to be involved in broader policy discussions about copyright and the internet, in particular with a view to the next Commission's mandate (2019-2024). Depending on future policy development this may involve the preparation of impact assessments and legislative proposals on EU copyright during the next Commission.

Finally, the Unit has an important portfolio of international activity. We represent the EU and its Member States in copyright discussions and negotiations in the World Intellectual Property Organisation (WIPO) and contribute to the work of other Directorate Generals as regards copyright aspects of bilateral trade agreements. In the next two years we will discuss the possible European Union's ratification of the 2012 Beijing Treaty on the Protection of Audio-visual Performances. We will also continue to engage in WIPO discussions on the protection of broadcasting organisations.

The SNE will contribute towards the definition of EU policies on copyright and related rights, work on the preparation and the drafting of legislative proposals and will assist colleagues in the Unit in the context of negotiations in the European institutions and international organisations, which involves frequent contacts with other Directorates General in the Commission, the European Parliament, the Council, Member States' authorities and stakeholders.. The SNE will also assist the unit in the work on matters related to the interpretation, monitoring and application of the existing EU copyright framework, including as regards references for a preliminary ruling before the Court of Justice of the EU.

The SNE will work under the supervision of an administrator. Without prejudice to the principle of loyal cooperation between the national/regional and European administrations, the SNE will not work on individual cases with implications with files he/she would have had to deal with in his/her national administration in the two years preceding its entry into the Commission, or directly adjacent cases. In no case he/she shall represent the Commission in order to make commitments, financial or otherwise, or to negotiate on behalf of the Commission.

Unit B2 is leading (within DG DEVCO) on the development, the follow-up and the implementation within DG DEVCO of the EU's resilience approach and the EU's Integrated Approach to conflicts and crises, as well as on the humanitarian-development and the security-development nexus and has as such a key role to support the deliverance of the EU's integrated response to Agenda 2030 adopted by the international community in September 2015, notably SDG 16 on just, peaceful and inclusive societies. Poverty reduction is the ultimate objective of EU development policy, as confirmed by the Lisbon treaty. In that context it has championed the formulation and implementation of the EU's Resilience. The unit also leads the recently established internal DEVCO network on resilience and conflict. The job requires close and effective cooperation within the Commission with the SG, the SJ, DG ECHO, and the FPI and as well as with the EEAS, in addition to contacts with the Council and the European Parliament, and not least with international organisations and civil society.

Natural disasters, food security problems, financial crises, lack of economic growth, climate change and related issues have made resilience of countries and vulnerable communities an increasingly important political and policy issue which permeates all sectors. - d) advise and support other DEVCO units and the EU Delegations for specific geographical area (Middle East and Central Asia) on conflict assessments and on mainstream conflict sensitivity, peace-building and resilience in all EU aid policies and programmes;
