

On the cover
Why the people of Scotland should vote to stay: leader, page 9. A confluence of history, North Sea oil and absent-minded politicians has put Britain's union at risk, page 25. Our advice to David Cameron and Alex Salmond on the technicalities of breaking up the union, page 28. An independent Scotland would be a rich country with terrible prospects, page 30, but a thriving art world, page 69

The Economist online
 Daily analysis and opinion from our 49 blogs, plus audio and video content, debates and a daily chart Economist.com/blogs
E-mail: newsletters and mobile edition Economist.com/email
Print edition: available online by 7pm London time each Thursday Economist.com/print
Audio edition: available online to download each Friday Economist.com/audioedition

Volume 412 Number 8895
 Published since September 1843 to take part in "a severe contest between intelligence, which presses forward, and an unworthy, timid ignorance obstructing our progress."
Editorial offices in London and also: Atlanta, Beijing, Berlin, Brussels, Cairo, Chicago, Hong Kong, Johannesburg, Lima, Los Angeles, Mexico City, Moscow, New Delhi, New York, Paris, San Francisco, São Paulo, Singapore, Tokyo, Washington DC

5 The world this week

Leaders

- 9 Scottish independence
Don't leave us this way
- 10 Israel and Palestine
The new normal
- 11 Cyber-security
The internet of things (to be hacked)
- 11 Crime in Latin America
From cage to enlightenment
- 12 Conflict in Ukraine
The siege

Letters

- 14 On M00Cs, Venezuela, legalising drugs, placenames

Briefing

- 18 The staid young
Oh! You pretty things

Europe

- 21 War in Ukraine
The turn of the tide
- 22 American spies in Germany
Up pops another...and another
- 22 German roads
Charging the neighbours
- 23 French labour laws
The binds that tie
- 23 The Nordics in charge
A Scandinavian wave
- 24 Charlemagne
Atwitter about Renzi

Britain

- 25 Scottish nationalism
How did it come to this?
- 28 If Scotland votes "yes"
Dear Prime Minister and First Minister...
- 30 The economics of independence
A costly solitude

Middle East and Africa

- 31 Israelis and Palestinians
From two wrongs, ruin
- 32 Iraq's rebels
The caliph of Mosul
- 32 Human rights in the Gulf
Bashing the wrong people
- 33 Crime in Somalia
Pirates v economists

United States

- 34 Marijuana in Washington and Colorado
The great pot experiment
- 36 Opposition research
Digging dirt, digitally
- 36 Guns and the Senate
Why Democrats flip-flop on firearms
- 37 Immigrants and welfare
They can't imagine not working
- 37 Hybrid foods
The joy of wonuts
- 38 Lexington
Taking Marco Rubio seriously

Special report: Cyber-security
Defending the digital frontier
 After page 38

The Americas

- 39 Crime in Latin America
A broken system
- 41 Bello
Brazil's footballing trauma

Asia

- 42 Indonesia's election
Victory to Jokowi?
- 43 Afghanistan's election
Stuffed
- 43 Pakistan's border
Double games
- 44 India's budget
Going for growth
- 44 Australia and Japan
Scrum-halves
- 45 Philistinism in Japan
Capital crimes

Israel and Palestine No matter what Israel's prime minister says, the conflict with the Palestinians cannot simply be "managed": leader, page 10. Four brutal murders have sparked a military escalation costing dozens more lives, page 31. A new book explains the toxic atmosphere in Israel and the occupied territories, page 66

Staid young Today's young people are meant to be alienated, unhappy, violent and unsuccessful. They are proving anything but, pages 18-20. Legalising a drug is harder than it looks, page 34

Marco Rubio The Republican Party should take the Florida senator's ideas seriously: Lexington, page 38. The Democrats' gun strategy, page 36

N.T. 16006120
 Col. 500102

Japan's electronic firms
They are turning themselves around, but remain a shadow of their former selves, page 51.
Philips restructures yet again, page 52

Carlos Slimmed
The announcement that Mexico's biggest telecoms empire will sell some of its assets suggests the government's reforms must be biting, page 55

Copying the Mittelstand
Many countries want a core of mid-sized companies like Germany's. It is not so easy to copy, Schumpeter, page 56

China

- 46 Improving logistics
The flow of things
- 47 China and the Arctic
Polar bearings
- 47 Pollution and IBM
Big Blue smoke

International

- 48 Corruption and ideology
Because we're worth it
- 49 Match-fixing in football
How high does it go?
- 49 Ready for boarding?
Mobile phones and planes

Business

- 51 Consumer electronics
Japan's shrunken giants, eclipsed by Apple
- 52 Philips
Lights out
- 53 Accounting fraud
Got 'em, Gotham
- 54 Levi Strauss
The Boss and the yogi
- 54 Startup nations
The biggest internet companies
- 55 Telecoms in Mexico
Slimming down
- 55 Smartphone apps
The antisocial networks
- 56 Schumpeter
The Mittelstand's many admirers

Finance and economics

- 57 Investing in retirement
The $15 trillion question
- 58 Buttonwood
Neither liquid nor solid
- 59 Sweden's deflated economy
Sub-zero conditions
- 59 Vatican bank
Managing Mammon

- 60 The economics of behaviour
Time and punishment
- 62 Free exchange
Collusion in auctions

Science and technology

- 63 Supercapacitors
First one up the drive
- 64 Second-hand space probes
The ancient mariner
- 65 Display screens
Going through a phase
- 65 Smallpox
Whoops!

Books and arts

- 66 Israel and its neighbours
Blood brothers
- 67 Nina Khrushcheva
Lost in translation
- 67 The Spanish empire
Border line
- 68 New fiction
Sounds of silence
- 68 The diamond-necklace affair
Queen, thief, wife, lover
- 69 Scottish contemporary art
Expanding universe

- 72 Economic and financial indicators
Statistics on 42 economies, plus a closer look at financial literacy

Obituary

- 74 Eduard Shevardnadze
Soviet foreign minister and president of Georgia

Special report: Cyber-security
Companies, markets and countries are increasingly under attack from cyber-criminals, hacktivists and spies, after page 38. Our worries about the security of the "internet of things": leader, page 11

Subscription service

For our full range of subscription offers, including digital only or print and digital combined, visit Economist.com/offers or call the telephone number provided below:
Telephone: +44 (0) 845 120 0983 or +44 (0) 207 576 8448

Subscription for 1 year (51 issues)

Print only
Euro-zone countries	€188
Denmark	DKr 1,399
Hungary	HUF 58,107
Norway	NKr 1,379
Poland	PLN 809
Sweden	SKr 1,636
Switzerland	Sfr 255
Other Europe (ex UK)	€188
Middle East - GCC	US$347
South Africa	Rand 1,700
Middle East and Africa	US$280

Principal commercial offices:

25 St James's Street, London SW1A 1HG
Tel: 020 7830 7000

Rue de l'Athénée 32
1206 Geneva, Switzerland
Tel: 41 22 566 2470

750 3rd Avenue, 5th Floor, New York, NY 10017
Tel: 1 212 541 0500

60/F Central Plaza
18 Harbour Road, Wanchai, Hong Kong
Tel: 852 2585 3888

Other commercial offices:

Chicago, Dubai, Frankfurt, Los Angeles, Paris, San Francisco and Singapore

PEFC certified

This copy of The Economist is printed on paper sourced from sustainably managed forests certified by PEFC www.pefc.org

