

On the cover
As the importance of intellectual capital has grown, privilege in America has become increasingly heritable: leader, page 9. The children of the rich and powerful are getting better suited to earning wealth and power themselves. That's a problem, pages 17-20

Free speech and hypocrisy
Speech should be freer than it is in many Western countries: leader, page 11. Reactions to the Paris attacks highlight threats to free expression around the world, page 49. Instead of uniting China and the West, jihadist violence risks further dividing them: Banyan, page 48

Islam and anti-Semitism
Anti-Semitism is in retreat in Britain. Abuse of Jews, not so much, page 27. Britain's conservative Muslims: Bagehot, page 28. The German right, page 22. Will the Jordanian king's attempts to curb Islamism backfire? Page 30

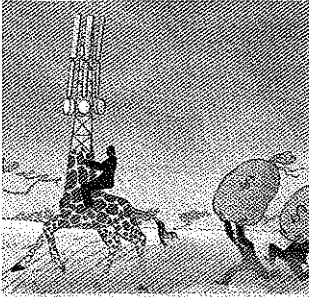

Skating in China
To satisfy skiers, the bare hills in China's arid north are covered with snow, page 47
