

THE CARTOGRAPHIC JOURNAL

VOLUME 55 NUMBER 2

MAY 2018

SPECIAL ISSUE

CHARTING THE COSMOS OF CARTOGRAPHY:
HISTORY - NAMES - ATLASES

CONTENTS

Editorial

Charting the Cosmos of Cartography: History - Names - Atlases 109

REFEREED PAPERS

- An Agent in Pretoria? Fred Jeppe, the Cartography of the Transvaal, and Imperial Knowledge Before 1900
Lindsay Frederick Braun 111
- Explorations Between the Barents Sea and the Bering Strait: Reporting on the Pursuit of the Northeast Passage
Imre Josef Demhardt 121
- Franz Ritter von Hauslab (1798-1883): A Multifaceted Austrian Representative of the Progress in Cartography in the Nineteenth Century
Jan Mokre 138
- The Transformation of Relief Representation on Topographic Maps in Hungary: From Hachures to Contour Lines
László Zentai 150
- Hungarian Military Mapping Abroad, 1919-1990
László Zentai, László Buga and Gábor Gercsák 159
- Drawn for the Mind's Eye: Map Metaphors in Early Modern English Literature
Karen Severud Cook 170
- The Use of Minority Place Names on Maps of the Third Austrian Military Survey - With a Regional Focus on Slovenian and Croatian Lands
Peter Jordan 178
- The Statistical Atlases of the Baltic States 1918-1940: The First National Atlases of the Three Newly Independent Countries
Thomas Schulz 187

VIEWPOINT

- Motives for Patenting a Map Projection: Did Fame Trump Fortune?
Mark Monmonier 196