

Journal of

Population Economics

Volume 24 · Number 3 · July 2011

NEWS

Francine Blau receives IZA Prize in Labor Economics 779

GENDER

Kids or courses? Gender differences in the effects of active labor market policies

M. Lechner · S. Wichler 783

Sex ratios and the red dragon: using the Chinese Communist Revolution to explore the effect of the sex ratio on women and children in Taiwan

A.M. Francis 813

Fathers' time investments in children: do sons get more?

K. Mammen 839

Son preference in Japan

W. Kureishi · M. Wakabayashi 873

How does the stork delegate work? Childbearing and the gender division of paid and unpaid labour

M. Frenette 895

Do downward private transfers enhance maternal labor supply? Evidence from around Europe

R. Dimova · F.-C. Wolff 911

Sibling composition and selective gender-based survival bias

R. Chamraborty 935

FAMILY

Older siblings and adolescent risky behavior: does parenting play a role?

S.L. Averett · L.M. Argys · D.I. Rees 957

Timing of family income, borrowing constraints, and child achievement

M.K. Humlum 979

The institution of marriage

D. Bethmann · M. Kvasnicka 1005

Happiness and altruism within the extended family

J. Schwarze · R. Winkelmann 1033

FERTILITY

Hyperbolic discounting and fertility

M. Wrede 1053

The effects of motherhood timing on career path

A.R. Miller 1071

Assisted reproductive technologies (ART) in a model of fertility choice

H. Rainer · G. Selvaretnam · D. Ulph 1101

GROWTH

Energy use, population and growth, 1800–1970

M. Fröling 1133

Structural instability and alternative development scenarios

L.L. Cellarier · R.H. Day 1165

The optimum growth rate for population under critical-level utilitarianism

T.I. Renström · L. Spataro 1181

Springer