

Contents

Introduction	7
---------------------------	----------

The Composition of government expenditure and economic growth: some evidence from OECD countries (N. Gemmell, R. Kneller and I. Sanz)	17
--	-----------

1	Introduction	18
2	Public spending, taxes and growth	19
2.1	Theory	19
2.2	Existing empirical evidence on public expenditure and growth	21
3	Methodology and data	22
3.1	Government budget constraint	22
3.2	Allowing for heterogeneous fiscal-growth effects	23
3.3	The updated dataset	23
4	Empirical results	24
4.1	Testing for total public expenditure effects	24
4.2	Public expenditure composition and growth	25
4.3	Testing alternative classifications of public expenditure	26
4.4	Testing for endogeneity	27
4.5	Instrumental variable (IV) results	28
4.6	Quantifying spending effects on growth	30
4.7	Short-run dynamics	32
5	Conclusions	33
	Appendix: The updated OECD dataset	39
	References	42

Behind public sector efficiency: the role of culture and institutions (R. Giordano, P. Tommasino, M. Casiraghi)	47
--	-----------

1	Introduction	48
2	Public sector efficiency in the Italian provinces	51
2.1	Defining (in)efficiency	51
2.2	Estimating the frontier	52
2.3	Input and output measures for the Italian public sector	53
2.4	The map of public sector efficiency in Italy	54
3	The determinants of public sector efficiency	57
3.1	A simple conceptual framework	58
3.2	Measuring preferences for participation	60
3.3	The empirical model	60
4	Results	61
4.1	OLS estimation	61
4.2	Instrumental variables estimation	61
5	The impact of decentralization	64
6	Conclusions	66
	References	67

Tax and economic growth (Å. Johansson, C. Heady, J. Arnold, B. Brys and L. Vartia)	71
1 Summary and conclusion	72
1.1 Main findings	73
2 Broad trends in taxation in the OECD	77
2.1 The level of taxation	77
2.2 The tax mix	77
3 Effects of different taxes on GDP per capita	85
3.1 Consumption taxes	85
3.2 Taxes on property	88
3.3 Personal income taxes	90
3.4 Corporate income taxes	100
4 The overall tax design	110
4.1 Bringing together individual tax effects	110
Annex 1: Tables and figures	114
Annex 2: Description of tax indicators	134
References	138

Growth and public infrastructure (N. Hashimzade and G. D. Myles) 145

1 Introduction	146
2 Empirical evidence	147
3 Public infrastructure	151
4 Infrastructural spill-over	156
4.1 Independent choice	157
4.2 Coordination between two countries	158
4.3 Redistribution	160
5 Capital mobility	161
5.1 Non-cooperative equilibrium	163
5.2 Cooperative equilibrium	164
5.3 Non-cooperative equilibrium with redistribution	165
6 Conclusions	166
Appendix	168
References	178

Macro Policy and Industry Growth: The Effect of Counter-Cyclical Fiscal Policy (P. Aghion and E. Kharroubi) 179

1 Introduction	180
2 Cyclical fiscal policy and growth: a toy model	182
2.1 Timing and technology	182
2.2 Borrowing and technology choice by entrepreneurs	184
2.3 Equilibrium of the capital market	185
2.4 Fiscal policy and growth	186
3 Data and econometric methodology	186
4 The basic specification	188
4.1 Opening the fiscal policy box	194
4.2 Counter-cyclicality and competing stories	200
4.3 Dampening effects	206

4.4 Instrumental variable estimation	207
5 Conclusions	210
6 Appendix.....	212
References	220

Public and private inputs in aggregate production and growth: a cross-country efficiency approach (A. Afonso and M. St. Aubyn)223

Non-technical summary	224
1 Introduction	225
2 Literature.....	226
3 Methodology.....	227
3.1 DEA and the Malmquist index.....	227
3.2 Stochastic frontier.....	229
4 Empirical analysis	229
4.1 DATA.....	229
4.2 Non-parametric analysis	230
4.3 Parametric analysis	231
5 Conclusion	232
Appendix – Data sources.....	234
Annex – Additional SFA estimates	240
References	242